Luis DODERO

Vice President and General Counsel

Mr. Dodero, a Spanish citizen, is the Vice President and General Counsel of MIGA and the Chairman of the MIGA's Claims Committee. He assumed his current position in 1989.

Prior to joining the Bank Group, Mr. Dodero worked for 17 years for the Compañía Española de Seguros de Crédito a la Exportación, SA (CESCE), the official credit and investment insurer of Spain, where he held the position of Deputy General Manager and General Counsel. He also worked for the predecessor agency, the Compañía Española de Seguros de Crédito y Caución (CESCC) between 1969 and 1972 as the legal advisor to the Claims Department. During these periods, Mr.

Dodero was involved in the recovery of major claims due to the occurrence of both political and commercial risks.

Between 1970 and 1983, he was attorney-at-law in his own law firm, specializing in international commercial law and acting as the local Spanish associate of major English law firms.

In the development field, Mr. Dodero played an active role for more than eight years in the negotiation of external debt of lesser developed countries as a member of the Spanish Delegation to the Paris Club, and negotiated over 50 bilateral agreements on debt rescheduling. He has served as an adviser to the Government of Ecuador and the Pacto Andino concerning the creation of an export credit insurance system for the region. Mr. Dodero has worked closely with the Berne Union.

Mr. Dodero received his LLM degree from Madrid University, and studied International Commercial Law, obtaining diplomas from various institutions in England, Spain, and in the U.S., including the Executive Development Program from Harvard University. Mr. Dodero is also a member of the International Bar Association, the Madrid Bar, and the Spanish Court of Arbitration, and he lectures frequently before international, national, private, and legal venues. He has authored numerous articles on credit and investment insurance.
